TRAINING PROGRAM CREDENTIAL CHECKLIST

This checklist is designed to assist local workforce boards/areas in determining whether educational programs are to be listed on the ETPL and whether the program will be credentialed for WIA Title 1B performance measurement/reporting outcomes.

Credentials (TEGL 15-10)

A credential is recognized when a certificate is awarded in recognition of an individual's attainment of measurable technical or occupational skills necessary to gain employment or advance within an occupation. These technical or occupational skills are based on standards developed or endorsed by employers. Certificates awarded by workforce investment boards are not included in this definition. Work readiness certificates are also not included in this definition. A certificate is awarded in recognition of an individual's attainment of technical or occupational skills by:

- A state educational agency or a state agency responsible for administering vocational and technical education within a state.
- An institution of higher education described in Section 102 of the Higher Education Act (20 USC 1002) that is qualified to participate in the student financial assistance programs authorized by Title IV of that Act. This includes community colleges, proprietary schools, and all other institutions of higher education that are eligible to participate in federal student financial aid programs.
- A professional, industry, or employer organization (e.g., National Institute for Automotive Service Excellence certification, National Institute for Metalworking Skills, Inc., Machining Level I credential) or a product manufacturer or developer (e.g., Microsoft Certified Database Administrator, Certified Novell Engineer, Sun Certified Java Programmer) using a valid and reliable assessment of an individual's knowledge, skills, and abilities.
- A registered apprenticeship program.
- A public regulatory agency, upon an individual's fulfillment of educational, work experience, or skill requirements that are legally necessary for an individual to use an occupational or professional title or to practice an occupation or profession (e.g., FAA aviation mechanic certification, state certified asbestos inspector).

- A program that has been approved by the Department of Veterans Affairs to offer education benefits to veterans and other eligible persons.
- Job Corps centers that issue certificates.
- Institutions of higher education which is formally controlled, or has been formally sanctioned, or chartered, by the governing body of an Indian tribe or tribes.

Targeted Credentials

See TEGL 15-10, Attachment 2, Credential Resource Guide, for a descriptions of credentials.

Credential Attributes

- Industry Recognized: Developed and offered by, or endorsed by a nationally-recognized industry association or organization representing a sizeable portion of the industry sector, or a credential that is sought or accepted by companies within the industry sector for purposes of hiring or recruitment, which may include credentials from vendors of certain products.
- Stackable: A credential is considered stackable when it is part of a sequence of credentials that can be accumulated over time to build up an individual's qualifications and help them to move along a career pathway or up a career ladder to different and potentially higher-paying jobs.
- Portable: A credential is considered portable when it is recognized and accepted as verifying the qualifications of an individual in other settings - either in other geographic areas, at other educational institutions, or by other industries or employing companies.
- Accredited: The goal of accreditation of educational programs is to ensure that the education provided by institutions of higher education meets acceptable levels of quality. The U.S. Department of Education webpage, Accreditation in the United States, provides lists of regional and national accrediting agencies recognized by the Secretary of Education as reliable authorities concerning the quality of education or training offered by the institutions of higher education or higher education programs they accredit.

Equal Opportunity Employer/Program • Under Titles VI and VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 (Title VI & VII), and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (ADA), Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, the Age Discrimination Act of 1975, and Title II of the Genetic Information Nondiscrimination Act (GINA) of 2008; the Department prohibits discrimination in admissions, programs, services, activities or employment based on race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, genetics and retaliation. The Department must make a reasonable accommodation to allow a person with a disability to take part in a program, service or activity. Auxiliary aids and services are available upon request to individuals with disabilities. For example, this means if necessary, the Department must provide sign language interpreters for people who are deaf, a wheelchair accessible location, or enlarged print materials. It also means that the Department will take any other reasonable action that allows you to take part in and understand a program or activity, including making reasonable changes to an activity. If you believe that you will not be able to understand or take part in a program or activity because of your disability, please let us know of your disability needs in advance if at all possible. 2. APPRENTICESHIP CERTIFICATIONS OR CERTIFICATES

Apprenticeship interim credential means a credential issued by the Registration Agency, upon request of the appropriate sponsor, as certification of competency attainment by an apprentice. There are two types of credentials that a participant may achieve through the Registered Apprenticeship system: 1) certificates of completion of an apprenticeship program, and 2) interim credentials, introduced in October 2008 with revised Labor Standards for Registration of Apprenticeship Programs regulations (29 CFR part 29). Certificates of completion of apprenticeship are issued by the U.S. Department of Labor (DOL) or a State Apprenticeship Agency. Interim credentials are issued by DOL.

Characteristics of Apprenticeship Certification or Certificate – Documented evidence of the following is required:

- The Office of Apprenticeship has approved a set of national Guidelines for Apprenticeship developed by a national committee or organization, joint or unilateral, for policy or guideline use by local affiliates, as conforming to the standards of apprenticeship set forth in 29 CFR part 29.5;
- A Registration Agency has established that an individual is eligible for probationary employment as an apprentice under a registered apprenticeship program;
- A Registration Agency has registered an apprenticeship program as evidenced by a Certificate of Registration or other written indicia;
- A Registration Agency has determined that an apprentice has successfully met the requirements and demonstrated that acceptable skill levels to receive an interim credential.

3. PERSONNEL CERTIFICATIONS

Personnel certification indicates that the individual has acquired the necessary knowledge, skills and sometimes personal attributes to perform a specific occupation or skill. The certificate that is given is owned by the certification body and can be taken away from the certified person for reasons of unethical or incompetent behavior after an appropriate due process.

Characteristics of Personnel Certifications

- Granted by third-party non-governmental agencies - usually associations, and by companies;
- Intended to set professional standards for qualifications, such as a certification for a crane operator, or a Novell Network Certified Engineer;
- The standards for certifications are not defined by government laws or regulations;
- Usually require successful completion of an examination or assessment, which indicates mastery of competencies as measured against a defensible set of standards;
- Standards are set through a defensible, industry-wide process of job analysis or role delineation that results in an outline of required knowledge and skills;
- Usually require a set amount of work experience or professional/practical experience;
- Usually must be renewed in some way after a certain time period based on meeting certain requirements for renewal;
- Voluntary - although state licensure boards and employers may specify certifications part of their requirements; and
- Violation of standards or requirements can result in suspension or revocation of certification.
